

Would you like a career in the creative industries?

Rose Bruford College of Theatre and Performance are currently looking for talented candidates for September 2013 entry into our Design, Management and Technical Arts courses. We would love to hear from creative students who have special talents in art & design, technical skills or a keen interest in theatre and performance. You will graduate with a degree from the University of Manchester but benefit from the small class sizes and high tuition hours at London's International Drama School - Rose Bruford College.

Rose Bruford College is one of the UK's leading drama schools and has always been at the forefront of vocational and practice-based training. This is a school where artistry and academic excellence meet.

BA (Hons) Scenic Arts

Train for a job interpreting stage designs, to construct sets and scenery for theatre, television, video, events, museum displays and many other sectors within the creative industries.

BA (Hons) Theatre Design

Train for a career designing for performance and associated live events from initial concepts through to production. Placing equal emphasis on costume and set design, you will learn to respond visually and creatively to stimuli ranging from text and character to music, shape and movement.

BA (Hons) Performance Sound

Train for a job producing a wide range of creative and technical solutions for audio in performances. Whether as a sound designer, live mixing engineer, studio manager, sound editor or sound operator, you will learn how to produce work to the highest professional standard.

Apply now for our courses in the School of Design, Management and Technical Arts. We still have places available for September 2013.
